The orchestra (of the company) is mentioned as very good and exciting hearty applause.
The Calgary Herald says that: "An earthquake shock was distinctly heard at 17 minutes past 2 o'clock on Monday morning by several people in town. Settlers in from the south to-day report that it was heard and felt quite clearly at Sheep Creek. There were two or three loud disturbances like thunder, followed by a quivering of the ground, the shaking of windows, etc." A sound which was supposed to be thunder was heard the same date, November 9th, some miles north of Edmonton.
The Hamilton Spectator is bringing out a volume of "The Khan's" poems. Canada has only one poetie genius, and his name is R. K. Keringham otherwise "The Khan" of Rushdale farm, Beverley township, Ontario. That Mr. Keringham is personally and poetically erratic is not a proof of his genius (although his variations from what is conventional almost amount to genius) but with all its faults he is well worthy of being read. Having written at intervals — on all the principal Toronto papers heard his faults, as well as excellencies, are already well known to the people of Ontario. That the critical and conservative Spectator considers his productions worthy of embodiment in permanent shape is a sufficient recommendation.

A PARTY comprising S. McNeill, D. McNamara, F. M. Robertson, A. E. Voyer, F. G. Taylor, Corp. Byrne, and J. McCullough visited the supposed-to-be haunted house recently occupied by the Gates family near South Edmonton on Saturday night. They reached the house about 10:30. The mysterious noises mentioned by other visitors were not heard, and as the night was cold and the party had no fire they left shortly after twelve o'clock, having seen or heard nothing strange. A South Edmonton party which visited the place on Thursday night last were also disappointed.

The annual meeting of the St. Andrew's society was held in the council chamber on Friday evening last 15th inst. About fifty members were present, the president G. J. Kinnaird in the chair. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, G. J. Kinnaird re-elected; 1st vice-president, W. B. Edmondson re-elected; 2nd vice-president, W. McKay secretary, G. W. Gairdner; treasurer, W. Easton, re-elected; chaplain, Rev. D. G. McQueen; standard bearer, K. A. McLeod; hard, J. R. Turnbull; piper, Thos. Houston re-elected. Committee of management: J. E. Turnbull, W. S. Robertson, R. Stewart, H. H. Robertson and A. R. McDonald. It was decided to celebrate St. Andrew's day, Nov. 30th, by a supper, arrangements for which are in the hands of the committee of management.

A letter was received last mail by C. S. W. Bridges of the Imperial bank from Wm. Fielders, dated near Salisbury, Mashonaland, South Africa, on August 26th. A copy of the Rhodesia Herald published at Fort Salisbury, dated August 29th, accompanied the letter. The paper comes like a flash photo of the exciting events then transpiring in which Mr. Fielders and several other Norwesters were taking part. There are columns on columns giving accounts of skirmishes and engagements in many localities. An item mentions the arrival of "Lieutenant Heney and four scouts, Messrs. Niss, Ross, Drabble and Fielders" from Lieutenant Col. Alderson's column, at Fort Salisbury bringing dispatches. Although the Herald speaks of itself as containing the official Gazette of the chartered company, its editorial comments are free and vigorous on all matters connected with the war then in progress and the state of the country. The following is a sample. Speaking on the report of the chamber of mines it says: "The main grievance of the chamber is that there is no output and as Mashonaland is a richly mineralized country with no insuperable drawback, there ought to have been one long ere this. The chamber saddled the right horses in going for the chartered company's industrial inactivity in the past and the infamous charges of the Beira railway company at the present time." Criticizing adversely Rhodesia it says: "The country wants a man who is bent on leading and on aiding no loftier movements than the tillage of our soil, the mining of our reef gold, and the increase of our community in numbers and political strength." This states the proper feeling for Canada as well as Rhodesia.

J. F. SMITH nearly lost his team at noon to-day while crossing the Saskatchewan at the new grade. As he loaded and felt the ice break he whipped the horses and one reached solid ice but the other went in. He got them clear of the sleigh and after an hour's work with some assistance managed to draw out the one which had got into the water. It was seriously chilled and somewhat cut, but will likely recover.

A MEETING of the council of the Edmonton board of trade was held on Saturday afternoon in the assembly hall. The report of the committee to draft a reply to the communication from the department of trade and commerce was considered. The report will be further considered at a future meeting. The resignation of the secretary, to take effect on December 31st, was received and considered, but not accepted.

SPARKING of early winters F. H. Sache recalls that in the fall of '74 he crossed the river at Edmonton on the ice on Nov. 9th. Some three inches of snow fell that night and a couple of days afterwards there was a heavy storm and cold weather. The cold continued throughout December, but in January there was rain and warm weather, and all the snow south of the Lone Pine cleared off. The spring of '75 was early and fine.

On motion of Mr. Magrath, seconded by Mr. Haultain, the following resolution was agreed to in assembly at Regina: "Resolved, that the House takes the liberty to draw the attention of the Federal government to the imperative necessity for immediate construction of the Crow's Nest railway; that unless this is done the trade of the Kootenay district may be permanently lost."

THAT FAST LINE.

The subscribers of the Manitoba Free Press must wonder occasionally what that paper would do for subjects for editorial comment were it not for the BULLETIN and its editor. Its latest objection is to the BULLETIN's proposition that those who would receive the advantage of the proposed fast Atlantic steamship line should pay for it, by means of an income tax. This it appears is a narrow and entirely fallacious view, and one which is intended to arouse class prejudice. That it is objectionable to the interests which the Free Press represents, everyone can easily understand. But suppose the Free Press were to point out just how it is narrow, fallacious and tending to arouse class prejudice. The BULLETIN maintains that on the showing of its friends the proposed fast service would not benefit the producing classes of the Dominion. They not only admit, but declare, that the fast service must be supplemented by a totally different service for freight. If $750,000 a year is taken to bonus the fast service, where is the amount necessary to bonus a new style of freight service with cold storage appliances to come from? That class prejudices are necessarily involved in the arguments for and against the fast service is freely admitted, but the BULLETIN denies that the effort to protect the producing and therefore, under our fiscal system, tax-paying classes against an extra burden of taxation chiefly for the benefit of the leisure classes, is "arousing" class prejudice. Those who are making the attack upon the treasury for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many are the ones who are doing the "arousing," not those who are simply defending their present position. There has been too much of this class legislation in Canada in the past. The expression of the people on the 23rd of June was that there should be less and not more of it in the future. Let the Free Press show how and wherein the fast line will adequately benefit those who under our present fiscal system will have to pay chiefly for it, and their representatives will vote the money.

KOOTENAY TRADE.

Edmonton, Alta., 6th Nov., '96.
To the President and Council
Edmonton Board of Trade,
Edmonton.

GENTLEMEN: We, two members of your committee appointed to consider the question of freight rates to the Kootenay, beg leave to report as follows:—

We have more particularly taken into our consideration the question of the exporting of feed oats, potatoes and wild hay, these being the farm products that would form the largest export trade to that country from the Edmonton district.

On account of the high freight rates to the Kootenay we find that if the farmer is paid a fair living price for the produce mentioned above, the buyer here cannot export, except potatoes; on which, however, there is such a small margin that the trade is unprofitable, especially considering the risk in handling and vice-versa. That to enable the buyer to find a market for the produce, he must pay the farmer, for such, a price at which he cannot live, except, as before stated, in the case of potatoes.

This means that the farmer has no market for the produce in which we are now dealing, except for home consumption, because he cannot be expected to sell at starvation prices in order to enable the buyer to export, and the buyer cannot, on the other hand, be expected to pay the farmer a fair market price when he is well aware that by so doing, he will suffer financially. This might not be the case if farmers and buyers alike were philanthropists, or if the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's authorities could be prevailed upon to lower their freight rates to the Kootenay, which, we believe, would prove to their advantage as well as to the advantage of the farmer and necessary middle man.

We give here such figures as we think must prove conclusively, to anyone, that our findings are correct.

First—As to the buyer, who pays a fair market price to the farmer, the following figures will show his margin after shipment to Trail, British Columbia.

FEED OATS.

Market price in Edmonton, 17c
Cost of handling, sacking & hauling, 6c

Cost to buyer f. o. b. Edmonton, 23c
Freight to Trail $10 per ton or 47c

Cost to buyer f. o. b. Trail, 17c
Present market price in Trail, 34c

Loss to buyer per bushel, 6c

Allowing him nothing for insurance, selling commission and all the other unavoidable expenses in carrying on his business.

We having purchased oats last season, know, to our cost, that any dealings in oats, under the present condition of things, must result in considerable loss to the buyer.

POTATOES.

Present market price in Edmonton, per ton, $ 5.00
Cost of handling, sacking & hauling, per ton, 3.00

Cost to buyer f. o. b. at Edmonton, $8.00
Freight to Trail, per ton, 10.00

Cost to buyer f. o. b. Trail, per ton, $18.00
Present market price in Trail per ton, 19.00

Margin to buyers, per ton, $1.00 which margin is, we consider, too small to induce trade to any large extent in this commodity.

HAY, WILD.

Fair market price in Edmonton, per ton, $4.00
Cost of handling, baling & hauling, 2.50

Cost to buyer f. o. b. Edmonton, 6.50
Freight to Trail, per ton, 16.00

Cost to buyer f. o. b. Trail, 16.50
Present market price in Trail, 15.00

Loss to buyer, 1.50

without allowing anything for necessary expenses connected with buying and selling.

Second—As to the price that must be paid the farmer to enable buyer to export with fair margin of profit.

FEED OATS.

Price of feed oats in Trail, per bush, 34c
Cost of freight Edmonton to Trail 17c
Allowance to buyers for hand'g etc., 6c
Allowance to buyer for margin, 2c 25c

Coming to the farmer, per bush, 9c

POTATOES.

Allowing the buyer a margin of $2 per ton there would be coming to the farmer $4 a ton or 12 cents per bushel.

HAY WILD.

Present market price in Trail, per ton, $15.00
Cost of freight Ed. to Trail, $10.00
Allowance to buyer for handling, etc., 2.50

Allowance to buyer for margin, .50 13.00

Coming to the farmer, $2.00

We consider that this matter should at once be laid before the general freight agent of the C. P. R., pointing out to him the great advantage that will accrue to the company if an extensive export trade is carried on from this district to the Kootenay, pointing out also the much greater inducements that could be offered the settlers by showing them a market for their produce, and the consequent increase of immigration to this district greatly beneficial to the land department of the C. P. R., all of which can be accomplished by the company giving to the district such freight rates as will enable our merchants and farmers to open up a trade with the Kootenay that will, we are confident, assume gigantic proportions in a very short period.

All of which is respectfully submitted for your careful consideration.

J. H. PICARD.

J. H. GRIFFIN.

AFTER THE BATTLE—WHAT?

Toronto Telegram.

To the thinking class of the American people the result of yesterday's voting cannot bring unalloyed delight. It is true that one evil has been averted. Those that have are the victors. Those that have not are defeated. It would be unreasonable to assert that money won McKinley's cause. But money was with him, and money was against William J. Bryan. Without the aid of the millionaires McKinley might not have been successful. It was with, if not by, their help that he triumphed.

It would be well for the nation if the fighting had ceased with the end of the fourth year of government of trusts and combines. Men whose names are not their own hoped for Bryan's election. They believed in a vague and uncertain, though thorough way, that his success meant their emancipation from the yoke of the money lender. They find that they are condemned to be debtors still.

No wonder that their hearts are full of bitterness. The victors may well cease jubiling to remember that in the Western States are hundreds of thousands of men who are ripe for rebellion. The democratic party that claimed regulants in the campaign, went to the battle under new generals. The world will not wonder if something more vigorous than words follows the election. The majority of the members of the defeated party firmly believe that the millionaires have made them their bond-slaves.

Yes, the victors may well be apprehensive. They have only one hope of averting strife. Should "good times" come the nation will calm down. A continuation of hard times will bring to desperate men a conception of desperate deeds.

(VIII)

Steamboat rates from Nelson to Kaslo and common points on Kootenay lake, per 100 lbs.
Car loads 10c, less than car loads 15c.
When a special rate is not given all freight is classified as per "Canadian Joint Freight Classification No. 10," under which the following are examples.

Meats.	Less than car loads.	Car loads.
Bacon and hams, loose or in bags, 2 class 5 class.
In boxes or barrels or casks, 3 5
Fresh meat prepaid at owner's risk, 1 4
Butter—
In crocks and jars (not taken unless packed in boxes or barrels) or pails at owner's risk, 1 3
In tubs, firkins, kegs, boxes or barrels, at owner's risk, 2 3
Eggs—Owners risk, double 1
In baskets or pails, 2 4
In boxes or barrels, 2 4
In patent carriers, 2 4

The foregoing facts and figures should enable anyone having produce to ship to the Kootenay to make the necessary calculations and deductions.
With reference to this district I would add that the gunny sacks now in use are too weak and too large for the purpose. Calcutta sacks holding 100 lbs. oats are recommended for strength, and adding away with the re-sacking for a pack train. These sacks in less than car loads cost 65 cents each in Vancouver.

MARKETS ON THE COAST.

Cheap produce is obtainable by water and competing railways at all coast cities; but there appears to be a constant demand at good prices for fresh butter and eggs and also for bacon and hams in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria.

The trade of the Cariboo country is I understand chiefly with Vancouver via Ashcroft, and the Okanagan Valley is said to supply it with produce. On this subject I lack full information and would in conclusion recommend that a representative of the district should be sent to investigate the openings which certainly exist for produce on the main line and in the Cariboo district. As the conditions are constantly changing and fresh developments continually occurring. Such a representative might be very advantageous sent every six months.

Respectfully submitted,
ISAAC COWIE.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN.

The Milling Co, have got into full running order and the new machinery is the pride of all who have inspected it. The Saskatchewan Milling Co. are to be congratulated on their brands of Alberta flour which by test has been found the equal of any imported, and should be a useful article for fine bread making. No well regulated family should be without it.

F. F. Tims, M. L. A., has returned from Regina. We understand he has succeeded in having an amount placed in the estimates for the purchase of a ferry plant at the crossing here.

The agent of the Phoenix fire extinguisher was in town last week and gave a public exhibition of the very efficient extinguisher manufactured by his company. He placed quite a few orders in the district. This machine, if more reasonable in price, would be quite a boon to the isolated settlers.

The frame of the new English church is up and the building is rapidly assuming a finished appearance. When completed it will form a pleasing addition to the buildings of our Main street.

Our local wheat buyers are paying as high as 65c for best wheat this week. Quite a lot is being brought in; there has been more grain delivered already than during the whole of last season. This proves a decided advantage to the merchants and others as well as to the farmer.

L. Moret is removing his stock to his new premises formerly occupied by R. Lindow.

OLD-TIMERS.

The annual meeting of the Edmonton Old-Timers' association was held in the billiard room of the Alberta hotel on Saturday last. Notwithstanding the stormy weather about twenty members were present, the president, D. Ross, in the chair. After the reading and adoption of the minutes and financial report the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, all the elections being by acclamation:

President, J. A. McDougall; vice-president for St. Albert, E. Bousquet; vice-president for Victoria, H. Lambart; vice-president for South Edmonton, F. H. Sacher. A. McNicol was re-elected to the position of secretary-treasurer.

The new president then took the chair. Votes of thanks were tendered the retiring president, Mr. Ross, the secretary-treasurer, Mr. McNicol, and Messrs. Jackson & Grierson of the Queen's for the use of their billiard room for a place of meeting.

It was decided to hold the annual dinner Friday, Dec. 11th. Messrs. W. McKay, J. R. Turnbull and G. W. Sutter were appointed a dinner committee, and Messrs. G. Sanderson, W. McKay, St. Geo. Jellie, E. Looby and the officers a standing committee for the ensuing year.

On motion of Messrs. J. Peacock and J. Gibbons the office of Honorary President was created and E. Carey elected to the position.

SUPREME COURT.

Queen vs. Boland was concluded on Thursday. The charge was altering saw mill scale sheets showing the measurements made by the scaler by putting the figures before certain other numbers on the scale sheet.

The jury were J. D. Clarke, John Thurston, Murdoch McLeod, J. Menesley, J. R. Turnbull and J. Grienswaite. The case was concluded late in the afternoon. After an hour's absence the jury found that alterations had been made in the scale book but did not consider the evidence conclusive against the prisoner, they therefore gave a verdict of not guilty. Beck, O. C., for the crown. Bown for defence.

ASSESSMENT APPEALS.

As a result of the assessment appeals assessment of the Methodist church property on river lots 10, 12 and 14 has been reduced one-half, to $15 an acre, and ordered to be assessed as such. It was also decided that the sub-division into lots and street allowances appearing on the plans of these lots did not apply to the part belonging to the Methodist mission and lying along the south bank of Rat Creek. In other words there are no street allowances through that property, and frontage tax cannot be collected from it on account of the grading of the several avenues through it.

The northern 251 acres on river lot 6 was reduced from $100 to $30 an acre and the 20 per cent reduction accepted on the balance. The total reduction on the Methodist mission property was about $4,000.

The H. B. Company appealed as to 806 acres of unimproved property north of Jasper avenue, now assessed at about $87 an acre, and which they claimed should be reduced to $25 an acre. They also claimed a reduction on the property on their upper lot to $3.00 an acre, and on the lower lot to $30 an acre. Also a reduction of 15 per cent from the assessment on all the rest of the sub-divided portion of their property. Their total claim for reduction amounted to about $30,000. Decision reserved.

The Hickson, Hecarty & Gillard estates, being lots on river lots 12 and 14, and the Bird, McArthur & Heinicke estates on river lot 10 accepted the 20 per cent reduction. Some of the lots on the Bird estate received a special reduction of about $500.

The decision in the appeals against income assessment were reserved.

S. S. Taylor, Q. C., appeared for the H. B. Co., and Methodist mission. J. C. F. Bown appeared for the Heinicke, McArthur, Bird & Gillard estates.

POLICE WORK IN '74.

In connection with the ex-mountain police anniversary dinner held on Nov. 3rd, Jas. McKernan, of East Edmonton, one of the 74 men, has handed the British Columbia diary of his movements during that and the following year, during which he reached Edmonton, which may be of interest to old-timers: Left Dufferin, on the west bank of the Red River, on July 9th, and arrived at Fort MacLeod on October 13th, '74, three months and four days on the trip. The first snow fell on Oct. 23rd and remained on the ground for some days. Left for Sun River, Montana, on Oct. 29th, and arrived there on Nov. 12th. Drove over to Massaria river on the 14th. Lost nine head of cattle and fourteen horses on the trip. Remained at Massaria until May 15th, coming in with Conrad's bull teams, bringing fourteen head of cattle for the force. Left MacLeod on Aug. 6th with detachment under Col. MacLeod for Tail Creek, arriving there on Aug. 10th (206 miles). Joe McDonald came with orders to the police to move up to the Red Deer crossing of the Calgary trail. From there they escorted Col. Smyth south to Calgary. While at Calgary helped to rebuild the fort there. Left Calgary again for Tail Creek on Nov. 2nd, with men of A troop, who were in Col. Jarvis' troop. Remained on detachment at Tail Creek until Feb. 2nd, '76. Then came to Edmonton with horse and fat stock. Arriving on Feb. 9th and going to Fort Saskatchewan on the 10th where he remained until Sept. 28th, '76, when he left for Ottawa, having completed his three years term, going down the Saskatchewan in a small boat to old Fort Carlton where the party arrived on Nov. 19th.

Commercial Winnipeg Nov. 7: Though wheat is tending sharply higher again, elevators by farmers are light in Manitoba markets, owing perhaps to some extent to unsettled weather. Oats are very firm and the local market is above a shipping basis. There is no market for barley and the grain can be used to better advantage on the farm for feed than to ship. The weather has been almost continually cloudy, with sleet and snow, but not cold and plowing can still be done, though there is considerable snow on the ground in some districts. Threshing is completed and the farm laborers who came from the east are returning home. The large number of men employed on the railways during the summer and fall are also going east. The principal demand for labor is for usual winter work in the woods. Business is fairly good for the season, in wholesale branches, and collections are reported by several houses as being rather better than last year.

Hudson's Bay Company

(INCORPORATED 1670)

The date of our incorporation is old but everything else connected with our business is new, at least in the sense of being up-to-date. Our methods of business are modern, and we have no old stock. We purchase direct from manufacturers and producers and we offer to the general public anything new in materials or fashions in a surprisingly short time after its appearance in European or eastern cities. We have now to hand a choice selection of new goods FRESHLY IMPORTED, and these we are prepared to sell at a reasonable advance on cost.

Dress Material

For fall and winter wear in great variety of newest fabrics, designs and colors, with Silks, Velvets and Trimmings to match. Blouse Goods in Silk, Flannelette and Wool.

Ladies' Fall Hats

Latest styles in Felt.

Ladies' Fall Jackets

from $6.00 up.

Fall and Winter Underwear and Hosiery at all prices.

Children's Goods
